KUNDERD'S ORIGATION

A New Gladioli

The Future Cut Flowers for Florists' Use

MRS. J. C. BRUGGEN
(1926, 66 Days, Rating 90)

A new 1926 introduction, early midseason.

Tall, elegant plant, beautiful spike for cut flowers. Color—light begonia rose or deep eosine pink according to Ridgeway Color Chart. Beautiful clear white throat, harmoniously blended with rose and pink.

Among the most popular varieties at the A. G. S. show, Rochester, 1925.

It was frequently spoken of as being better than "Myrtle," which if correct, will make it an extremely popular and valuable variety.

Original's description—I feel highly honored that Mr. Kunderd has named such a valuable cut flower variety for myself.

It has proven under adverse circumstances a rapid multiplier with large bulblets, most of which will bloom this coming season, bringing in "Glads" when flowers are scarce.

The variety bulbs and bulblets, blooming in all nearly three months, not planted at different times, but all planted the same week in April. I would not advise late planting in the south, except to those who have irrigation.
